

The intention in my work is to depict iconic, simple, overlooked moments in life. My paintings reimagine visually charged memories, both melancholy and comforting. Working serially has allowed me to increase my focus on color, mark-making, and paint handling. The work is about emotion, representing feelings of which I connect to nature, being alone, and the beauty of a brief moment.